

Assistant Professor – Geographic Information Science
Hunter College, City University of New York

The Department of Geography, Hunter College, City University of New York, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position with specialization in Geographic Information Science to start September 2012. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain an active research program; teach undergraduate and graduate introductory and advanced courses in GIS; mentor both undergraduate and graduate students; contribute to our growing GIS certificate program; be part of developing a professional MGIS program to complement our MA in Geography; and participate in the Ph.D. program in Earth and Environmental Science at the CUNY Graduate Center. We seek a candidate with spatial database expertise and innovative ideas in geocomputation, apps-based environments, and geospatial modeling. Topical area of GIS application is open. PhD in geography or appropriate related field required by time of appointment. Qualified non-geographers are welcome to apply. To apply: send cover letter; CV; a statement of research and teaching interests; a sample of written work relevant to the position; and contact information for three references to the address below by March 5, 2012. Search Committee Department of Geography Hunter College-CUNY 695 Park Avenue – HN 1006 New York, NY 10065 If applying electronically, send one PDF file composed of a cover letter; CV; statement of research and teaching interests; sample of written work relevant to this position; and complete contact information for three references to geogjob@hunter.cuny.edu. The City University of New York is an equal opportunity/Affirmative Action/Immigration Reform and Control Act/Americans with Disabilities Act Employer.