Course description and objectives

You may have read, observed, experienced, consumed the ‘urban’ in myriad ways. You may have wondered whether ‘urban’ and ‘cities’ are the same thing or different?; Is urban a phenomenon/a process or is it an object?; What are ‘Urban spaces’? How do we define them? How do these spaces get produced, what and who shapes them? How do they ‘look’ or ‘feel’ across the spaces/contexts? And most significantly, why should we be interested in urban spaces?

Together, we will explore these questions as we broadly examine the processes - historical, social, economic, cultural and political that produces urban spaces. For instance, we will explore if there are interlinkages between these processes?; Why and how some processes are (dis)similar and what makes them different? In exploring the interlinkages, not just amongst processes, but also places, we will focus on emerging urban spaces in the global south that are undergoing profound transformations in terms of patterns of urbanization, economic and social changes, modes of governance, notions of entitlement, citizenship and ecological transformations. The course will introduce some key concepts and debates in urban geography and case studies to examine some of these processes. Focusing on urban conditions and challenges, the course will cover topics on urban economy, ecology, work, labor, governance, infrastructure, housing, inequality, and social justice.

Students taking this course are highly encouraged to participate in the discussions, ask questions and offer comments at all times. The objective of the course is for students to develop critical thinking, writing and acting on complex economic, social and ecological issues in our society. The course is organized around interactive lectures, in-class group discussions, fieldwork and archival research, collaboration and sharing of experiences.

Reading materials

There is no text book for the course. There are a set of articles, book chapters, internet links and films that are available on Carmen in the module section and in the syllabus.

You are expected to:

1. Read and submit comment on carmen on the day’s reading at least one hour before class each class day (by 1:20 pm). Participate in class and speak out on all topics, contributing from what you have read recently;
2. Read and write four reflective posts from CityLab blog or The Guardian’s ‘Stories of the Cities’ series;
3. Read and review 2 articles from journals where urban research is published;
4. Write a 2-3 page “hometown paper”;
5. Complete a project that gathers and/or uses data for a city, suburb, or metropolitan area, compiled in a final paper; (Group Project: Rise of Columbus)

---

6. Present a summary of your final project to class.

In your writing, the focus should be on what you have read and learned recently, not on what you already knew. Good papers demonstrate new knowledge gained in this course.

All assignments need to be submitted via Carmen. Check the detailed schedule below for submission dates.

Grading will be based on 6 elements:

1. Attendance (sign in) each class day and participation on the topic of the day and your recent reading on urban issues, whether for assignments or otherwise. (10%)
2. Your summary and comments [what is new, confusing, or needing elaboration] on the day's assigned readings/films/discussion board. (15%)
3. Summary and comments on 4 posts in CityLab (CityLab is a daily blog on cities <http://www.citylab.com/> Or The Guardian's 'Stories of the Cities' series <https://www.theguardian.com/cities/series/the-story-of-cities> . (15%)
4. Reviews of 2 articles from any of the following journals (15%)– from any issue, any year (but the article must be at least 5 pages long, and not be a book reviews). All are available as electronic journals in OSU Libraries:

Cities

Journal of Urban Affairs

Urban Affairs Review

Urban Studies

International Journal of Urban and Regional Research

City, Culture and Society

Journal of Urban Economics

Urban Geography

A review must: include a full citation of the article (author, title, journal title, volume, issue, year, and page numbers), be 2 pages or 1000 words (1-1/2 or double-spaced) long critique – that is, your thoughts and reactions and comparisons with other sources – that resulted from having read the article. The critique should not be focused on the article itself, and a point-by-point criticism is not what is meant by a critique. The best critiques draw on material from outside the article – from your life, your job, your family or friends, or material from this or other courses.

The two articles reviewed must be from two different journals – not just two different articles from different issues of the same journal title.

- Evaluation will be based on evident organization (including sections with section headings), quality of writing (spelling grammar, and punctuation), and quality and clarity of the summary and of the points you are make in the critique.

5. Hometown paper (15%): A 2-3 page or 1000 words (1-1/2 or double-spaced) paper that summarizes the past, present, and future of your hometown and home metropolitan region. That is, think about the city and suburb with which you most identify and set them in the context of recent urban trends. Do not rely on – nor attempt to recreate – a Wikipedia account.
    - Evaluation is based on evident organization, quality of writing (spelling grammar, and punctuation), and quality and clarity of the points you are making in the paper.
    - The hometown paper should provide a geographical, historical and economic sketch of your hometown (if you have lived in several places, choose one). Include which metropolitan area is most important to your hometown; that is, if your home is a suburb or a small town, where does your family shop and eat out, and which airport do they use? What was the local economy based on, say, 25 years ago? What is it based on now? What is the future of the place in a globalized world?
  6. A final project presentation and report/product (30%) – by a group of 2 collaborators – on an urban issue. The presentation and final product combined are worth 30% of the course grade. The final product will be evaluated based on the completeness of the description of your research, your findings, and their significance or the “take home” point of your work.

**We will develop the final project in conversation and collaboration in class.

Summary:

Attendance & participation: 10%

Summary of readings: 15% -

CityLab/The Guardian series (4): 15%

Article reviews (2): 15%

Hometown paper: 15%

Presentation/Final Paper: 30%

Grading policies:

- Make-up policy: Missed in-class activities cannot be made up as they are based on in-class, group activity.
- Late policy: Late assignments will lose 5% for every day they are late. To avoid losing points, you must make arrangements AHEAD OF TIME.
- To pass the course:
  - You must receive a total grade of at least 60%.
  - You must complete all major assignments. Regardless of how well you do on other parts of the course, you will not pass the course if you miss assignment or fail to turn in the final paper.

PLEASE SEE ME IF YOU ARE HAVING PROBLEMS THAT PREVENT YOU FROM MEETING COURSE REQUIREMENTS; WE MAY BE ABLE TO MAKE ALTERNATIVE ARRANGEMENTS.

Grading scale (Standard OSU scale): 93-100 A; 90-92 A-; 87-89 B+; 83-86 B; 80-82 B-; 77-79 C+; 73-76 C; 70-72 C-; 67-69 D+; 60-66 D

Accessibility accommodations for students with disabilities

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. You are also welcome to register with Student Life Disability Services to establish reasonable accommodations. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

Accessibility of course technology This course requires use of Carmen (Ohio State's learning management system) and other online communication and multimedia tools. If you need additional services to use these technologies, please request accommodations with your instructor.

Your mental health As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273- TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org

Statement on title IX Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Kellie Brennan, at titleix@osu.edu

HEALTH AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS

All students, faculty and staff are required to comply with and stay up to date on all university safety and health guidance (<https://safeandhealthy.osu.edu>), which includes wearing a face mask in any indoor space at all times.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY (ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT)

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism (see more below), collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me. Other sources of information on academic misconduct and academic integrity to which you can refer include:

- The OSU Committee on Academic Misconduct and its Resources page
- Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity
- Eight Cardinal Rules of Academic Integrity

Plagiarism: Plagiarism encompasses all activities in which you use another person's ideas without acknowledging that you are doing so. Plagiarism ranges from direct copying of someone else's words to using someone else's ideas without being clear the ideas are not yours. Please use citations to differentiate between your ideas and those you got from other sources (such as books, articles, and webpages).

Schedule with topics, readings and assignments
