Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this class. You are free to take this class without ever having taken a Geography class beforehand. Indeed, many students who take this class do not have a background in Geography. However, because this class is routinely taken by students in the Urban, Regional and Global Studies (<https://geography.osu.edu/undergrad/majors/urg>) and Environment and Society specializations in my department, in fulfillment of the Geography B.A., we will be making use of geographical concepts, theories, and methodologies, and we will be engaging debates in the discipline. For the uninitiated, don't fret; you will get there! If you are interested in taking more classes in Geography, come and see me. I can point you in the right direction.

Course description

Political geography is a subfield within human geography that examines the connection between politics and geography. A strict definition of political geography is difficult due to the diversity of ways in which political geographers approach their subdiscipline. However, studying the spatial dimensions of power is core to most political geography-based research.

In this class, we will focus specifically on how political geographers have tried to make sense of the intimate link between space and power; or, the ways that power relationships are at once spatial relationships, and vice versa. We will emphasize the diversity of ways in which political geographers approach this task, focusing in particular on theoretical and methodological shifts, changes in methods, and broader social, political, cultural, and environmental changes which have shaped political geography research. Our focus will mostly be on power and the control of space, and as such our discussions will be centered on core concepts such as space, place, territory, region, and scale.

While the earlier lectures focus on the history of political geography, the second half of the class zeroes in on contemporary debates in political geography.

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Describe the connection between space and society through a variety of real-world case studies and examples centered on the politics of race, class, gender, sexuality, nationality, and citizenship (Geography Program Goals A.1.a; A.1.c; A.1.d; A.1.e);
- Critically evaluate different theoretical and methodological approaches to understanding space and power, each situated in specific spatial and temporal contexts (Geography Program Goals A.2.a; A.2.b; A.2.c);
- Communicate complex ideas about the relationship between space and power in their own words, and with a public non-academic audience in mind (Geography Program Goals C.1.c; C.1.d; C.1.h.; C.1.i; C.1.j);
- Work in teams effectively (Geography Program Goals C.2.a; C.2.b; C.2.c; C.2.d); and
- Critically engage real-world, actually-existing problems involving social and environmental justice from multiple vantagepoints, and across multiple scales (Geography Program Goals D.1.a.; D.1.b; D.1.c; D.1.d; D.2.b.; D.2.d).

General education expected learning outcomes

This class fulfills the Social and Behavioral Sciences Foundation category of the General Education—New (GEN) curriculum.

This class fulfills the Social Science—Organizations and Politics category of the General Education-Legacy (GEL) curriculum. In the GEL context, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

Understand the theories and methods of social scientific inquiry as they apply to the study of organizations and politics.

In this class, we emphasize how particular political geographers, representative of particular periods of political geographic thought and theorization, make sense of the relationship between power and space via what often turn out to be highly contested methods, rules, and postulates about politics and society and their organization.

Understand the formation and durability of political, economic, and social organizing principles and their differences and similarities across contexts.

In this class, we scrutinize the historical-geographical formation of political geographic theories as well as how particular political geographic theories explain (or fail to explain) the exercise of power, inequality and social strife in the world. As such, the class will tackle theories as well as case studies in a broadly comparative context. In the first instance, students will approach political geography as an embedded knowledge-making practice which reflects particularities of both time and place. Differences between theories will be explained by looking to specific social, political, and economic circumstances conditioning their emergence and formalization. In the second instance, students will be exposed to political geography as an area of study which helps us to understand actually-existing social, political and economic differences and inequalities. In other words, students will be encouraged to think of theory not simply as an abstract exercise.

Comprehend and assess the nature and values of organizations and politics and their importance in social problem solving and policy making.

In our case studies we examine to the extent to which particular governing organizations and institutions – in the cultural, economic and political spheres – can be understood in terms of their geographical assumptions about the spatial operation of power and authority.

HOW THIS COURSE WORKS

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% in person. All lectures and office hours will be held on campus.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

COURSE MATERIALS AND TECHNOLOGIES

Textbooks

Required

Instead of a textbook, we will be reading peer-reviewed journal articles and/or book chapters. Some weeks have more readings than others. You should be prepared to dedicate 4-6 hours of work weekly to the readings.

I will upload all the readings to the Carmen website.

I will discuss the readings in my lectures so that you have a clear idea of the relationship between the readings and the lecture material. Occasionally, I will post notes on specific readings to help you understand what's going on. I encourage you to attend office hours with me as well as your TA to ask about the readings.

My biggest advice with respect to the readings is to make use of the internet while you read, for example to look up words you don't understand or read quickly on specific events. I also recommend that you consult human geography dictionaries or encyclopedias while you read.

Recommended/optional

There are a number of quality political geography-centered dictionaries and encyclopedias available for free as e-books through the university library website. I recommend:

- Warf B (2010). Encyclopedia of Geography. Thousand Oaks: SAGE. This is a basic introduction to core concepts, written in non-academic language, and designed mostly for students exiting high school and entering university.
- Kitchin R and Thrift N (2009). International Encyclopedia of Human Geography. London: Elsevier. This is a comprehensive review of core concepts and debates in Geography, written for an academic audience.

The following is not available as an e-book but is an excellent and quick resource for students finding their way through human geography, and political geography specifically:

- Gregory D, Johnston R, Pratt G, Watts MJ and Whatmore S (2009). The Dictionary of Human Geography. London: Wiley.

These are not mandatory readings, and many students have done well in this class without consulting these sources. However, having them on hand will likely enhance your reading experience in the class!

- Basic computer and web-browsing skills
- Navigating Carmen (go.osu.edu/canvasstudent)

Required equipment

- Computer: current Mac (MacOs) or PC (Windows 10) with high-speed internet connection
- Other: a mobile device (smartphone or tablet) to use for BuckeyePass authentication

Required software

- Microsoft Office 365: All Ohio State students are now eligible for free Microsoft Office 365. Full instructions for downloading and installation can be found at go.osu.edu/office365help.

Carmen access

You will need to use BuckeyePass (buckeyepass.osu.edu) multi-factor authentication to access your courses in Carmen. To ensure that you are able to connect to Carmen at all times, it is recommended that you take the following steps:

- Register multiple devices in case something happens to your primary device. Visit the BuckeyePass - Adding a Device help article for step-by-step instructions (go.osu.edu/add-device).
- Request passcodes to keep as a backup authentication option. When you see the Duo login screen on your computer, click Enter a Passcode and then click the Text me new codes button that appears. This will text you ten passcodes good for 365 days that can each be used once.
- Download the Duo Mobile application (go.osu.edu/install-duo) to all of your registered devices for the ability to generate one-time codes in the event that you lose cell, data, or Wi-Fi service

If none of these options will meet the needs of your situation, you can contact the IT Service Desk at 614-688-4357(HELP) and IT support staff will work out a solution with you.

Descriptions of major course assignments and late policy

Attendance

Description: At the start of each class the TA will circulate an attendance sheet. You have until the end of class to sign the sheet. You won't be able to sign the attendance sheet after the end of class. We will start taking attendance at the beginning of week 2.

Academic integrity and collaboration: My expectation is that you are in class and sign your own name. Signing for others will constitute a COAM violation.

Missed class? I will not dock you for attendance if you provide documentation of a verifiable confining illness (i.e. COVID-19), a verifiable family emergency, jury duty, religious obligation, and/or military service. Otherwise, a missed class will count against your attendance grade.

Critical reading analysis

Description: You are responsible for handing in one critical reading analysis during the semester. The timing of the reading analyses is up to you. However, you must hand in a critical reading analysis within 14 days of when the reading appears on the class schedule (see below). For example, if you choose to review a reading assigned on Wednesday of the third week of classes, your review will be due via Carmen no later than the start of class on Wednesday of the fifth week of classes.

Your critical reading review must be at least 4 full pages in length (~1,000 words), double-spaced with regular 1" margins, excluding bibliography. I am not assigning an upper limit. However, please note that writing a lot doesn't always make for better or more compelling work; quantity is not the same thing as quality. I am assuming that the bulk of reviews will be 4-5 pages in length.

So, what is a critical reading review? A critical reading analysis is a focused and careful engagement with a specific reading. The goal of a reading analysis is twofold:

- to unpack and review the core theme (or themes) in a selected reading; and,
- to evaluate or assess the reading with respect to other readings and/or material in the class (lecture material, lecture videos, etc).

A critical reading review should be detail-oriented, and as such should take the form of a 'close reading'. Reading 'closely' means digging into a text – often at the level of specific paragraphs or anchor points rather than the text as a whole – and extracting a core argument. Reading 'closely' means avoiding vague references to a text, as well as generalizations or claims not based in the reading.

A critical reading review is not a blow-by-blow recap. However, you are going to need to summarize specific elements of the article/book to write your review. Be careful with the amount of time you dedicate to your summary! Summarize only what you need to summarize in order to assess the author's argument. As a rule of thumb, you should keep your review or summary to one page and reserve the remainder of your critical reading review, i.e., 2 pages+, for your assessment.

A good reading analysis will include a focused thesis statement that helps the reader follow your review and assessment.

I will upload a basic grading metric for the critical reading analyses to guide your work. Please consult that metric before you start writing your reading analysis.

Academic integrity and collaboration:

The critical reading analysis is open book, meaning that you can consult the readings, your lecture notes, and lectures slides while preparing the exams. However, you may not work in groups; my expectation is that you hand in your own, original work. Failure to complete the writing assignment on your own, including plagiarism violations, will constitute a COAM violation.

Your reading reviews will be checked on Carmen for plagiarism using a built-in TurnItIn application. You will receive a plagiarism score when you submit your reviews.

The TurnItIn app will generate a 'similarity score' which finds matching or highly similar text in your submission – measured against a comprehensive bank of sources, including previously submitted material. The app will not count material that is properly cited, or bibliographic entries.

Your TurnItIn results will be returned according to a color code:

Blue: No matching text
 Green: One word to 24% matching text
 Yellow: 25-49% matching text
 Orange: 50-74% matching text
 Red: 75-100% matching text

If you receive a yellow score, you will be automatically ineligible for a grade higher than a C for the assignment in question. If you receive an orange or red score you will be automatically ineligible for a grade higher than a D for the assignment in question. In most cases, an orange or red score will earn you a failing grade. No exceptions.

I will not accept late submissions or extensions for the critical reading analysis.

Take-home midterm exam

Description: On the first day of class I will unlock a 3-question midterm exam on Carmen. The exam will be due no later than 5 p.m. on February 27 via Carmen dropbox. You will have a strict word limit of 800 words for each answer, excluding bibliography. This is a tight word limit, meaning that editing will play a very important role in the midterm. I will post a comprehensive grading rubric and a citation guide for the midterm on Carmen.

Academic integrity and collaboration:

The midterm exam is open book, meaning that you can consult the readings, your lecture notes, and lectures slides while preparing the exams. However, you may not work in groups; my expectation is that you hand in your own, original work. Failure to complete the midterm on your own, including plagiarism violations, will constitute a COAM violation.

Late handing in the midterm? For the midterm exam, there is a 10% penalty per 24-hour period after the due date. The 10% penalty applies the minute the deadline has been missed, i.e., at 5:01 p.m. on 2/227/2023. This means that if you are late with the exam, you should hold on to it for 24 hours in order to maximize your work time. Handing in a late exam before the 24 hours has expired means that you are not making full use of the time you have effectively gained with the 10% penalty. If you are handing in a late exam, please email me (coleman.373@osu.edu) and the TA (khan.969@osu.edu) to let us know.

I will waive midterm late penalty for a handful of reasons, for example if you have a verifiable confining illness (i.e. COVID-19), a verifiable family emergency, jury duty, religious obligation, and/or military service. If any of these situations applies to you, I will expect an email prior to the exam so that we can work out an alternate due date and schedule. If you wait until the due date has passed to contact me, I will not waive the late penalties.

Take-home final exam

Description: On the day the midterm is due I will unlock a 3-question final exam on Carmen. The final exam will be due no later than noon on April 28 via Carmen dropbox. You will have a strict word limit of 800 words for each answer. This is a tight word limit, meaning that editing will play a very important role in the final. I will post a comprehensive grading rubric and a citation guide for the final exam on Carmen.

Academic integrity and collaboration: The final exam is open book, meaning that you can consult the readings, your lecture notes, and lectures slides while preparing the exams. However, you may not work in groups; my expectation is that you hand in your own, original work. Failure to complete the final exam on your own, including plagiarism violations, will constitute a COAM violation.

Late handing in the final exam? For the final exam, there is a 10% penalty per 24-hour period after the due date. The 10% penalty applies the minute the deadline has been missed, i.e., at 12:01 p.m. on 4/28/2023. This means that if you are late with the exam, you should hold on to it for 24 hours in order to maximize your work time. Handing in a late exam before the 24 hours has expired means that you are not making full use of the time you have effectively gained with the 10% penalty. If you are handing in a late exam, please email me (coleman.373@osu.edu) and the TA (khan.969@osu.edu) to let us know.

I will waive final exam late penalty for a handful of reasons, for example if you have a verifiable confining illness (i.e. COVID-19), a verifiable family emergency, jury duty, religious obligation, and/or military service. If any of these situations applies to you, I will expect an email prior to the exam so that we can work out an alternate due date and schedule. If you wait until the due date has passed to contact me, I will not waive the late penalties.

Faith accommodations

Our inclusive environment allows for religious expression. Students requesting accommodations based on faith, religious or a spiritual belief system regarding examinations, other academic requirements or absences, are required to provide the instructor with written notice of specific dates for which the student requests alternative accommodations at the earliest possible date. For more information about religious accommodations at Ohio State, visit odi.osu.edu/religious-accommodations.

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. (Remember that you can call 614-688-4357(HELP) at any time if you have a technical problem.)

- Grading and feedback: For assignments and exams, you can generally expect feedback within 7 days.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- ▶ Email communication style: My TA and I expect proper email etiquette. This means using your osu.edu email address for communication, writing the subject of your email in the subject line, identifying which class you're taking with me, being concise, not writing in block letters, using spell check, not deleting prior communications on your reply, and ending with a signature that includes your contact information. I am also expecting that you address me and the TA formally. I will not respond to an email that begins informally, as in "Yo, Coleman what's up." Believe it or not, I get emails like that. You can find useful information on how to communicate via email at <https://onpace.osu.edu/modules/polishing-your-job-etiquette-skills/communicate-as-a-professional/e-mail-etiquette-content-area>
- ▶ Tone and civility during lecture: I welcome your active participation during the lectures in the form of questions regarding the material at hand . However, because it is my responsibility to ensure that students' participation in class is orderly and respectful, my core expectation is that students will, at all times and without any exceptions, act professionally and courteously in the classroom. In particular, I am expecting that your engagement with me, with your TA, and especially with your peers, is not hostile or derisory, and that you respect social difference. I will not tolerate language that is racist, sexist, patriarchal or homophobic. If you use derisive or hateful language, or otherwise engage me, your TA or your peers in a hostile manner, I will remove you from the class.
- ▶ Tone and civility during office hours: Office hours are not individualized; you can expect multiple visitors. As a result, let's maintain a supportive learning community during office hours where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably.

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learn, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University's Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand resources are available at go.osu.edu/ccsondemand. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-
