Course description

This is a course in human geography that investigates the character of our modern world. We will examine the concepts and forces that define the modern world as such – the Enlightenment, globalization, capitalism, and nation-states – to build your capacity to understand modernity and its geographical expressions. The course is structured around five core themes:

1. Modernity, the Enlightenment, and globalization
2. The industrial revolution and the spread of capitalism
3. Empire and colonialism
4. Nation-states: the formation of the global polity
5. The transformation of nature

While many of our readings are theoretical, we will draw from case studies from different regions – Europe, the USA, Iraq, China, and Mexico – to ground our studies. Our underlying aim is for you to develop a more rigorous and coherent conception of the world, and in this manner to advance the University's mission: disciplina in civitatem.

For the lectures to be effective, you must come to them prepared. Read the material carefully before each class. This is your major responsibility for the course, as well as the key to your success. The readings are challenging, and you will probably have questions. Dwell on them; discuss them with your classmates; bring them to class.

General education / expected learning outcomes

GEOG 3701 fulfills GE requirements in Social Science (2) Organizations and Politics, by focusing on the structures of human societies, cultures and institutions. Students who complete this course will: 1. understand theories and methods of social scientific inquiry as they apply to the study of organizations and politics; 2. understand the formation and durability of political, economic, and social organizing principles and their differences and similarities across contexts; and, 3. comprehend and assess the nature and values of organizations and politics and their importance in social problem solving and policy making.

GEOG 3701 also fulfills GE requirements in Global Studies, by focusing on non-Western countries and global issues. Students who complete the course will be expected to: 1. understand some of the political, economic, cultural, physical, social, and philosophical aspects of one or more of the world's nations, peoples and cultures outside the U.S.; and 2. recognize the role of national and international diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values as global citizens.

HOW THIS ONLINE COURSE WORKS

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. However, there are many sessions (lectures, mainly) when you must be logged in during our scheduled class time.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

Attendance and participation requirements: This is an online course. Your attendance is based both upon your online activity and your attendance at lectures. The following is a summary of students' expected participation:

- Participating in online activities for attendance: APPROXIMATELY THREE TIMES PER WEEK.
- You are expected to read materials on Carmen every week and also to log in to attend lectures every Monday and Friday.
- Attendance of on-line lectures is required but not graded.
- If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.

GRADING AND FACULTY RESPONSE

How your grade is calculated

You will write five papers. Your grade will be determined by the average of the four best scores you receive on these papers. I.e., we will drop the lowest score and take the average.

The writing assignments (papers)

You will write five critical reflection essays. They are due is due at 2:45 PM on September 23, October 14, November 4, November 25, and December 10.

Each of your essays should be ~ 900 words, double-spaced, 12-point font (this will come to around three pages). When you refer to a text, be sure to cite it properly.

Each paper will discuss one or two of the texts assigned for reading in the course. Your essay must do two things. First, it will provide a concise analytic summary of the text under discussion. Second, it will offer your own critical analysis of the central argument of the text. Critical analysis requires thoughtful reflection. A strong essay is well written (and therefore entertaining) and provides 'constructive criticism', i.e., a critical analysis of the argument.

Your paper may be turned in via upload to Carmen at any time before they are due.

Additional information about your papers will be provided during lecture and via Carmen.

Late assignments

Late work loses ten percentage points per day (Saturday and Sunday count). For instance, a paper that is turned in six days late that receives a grade of 90/100 would be scored 30/100.

Grading scale

Grading options for the course are A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, E. An 'I', or Incomplete, will only be given under special circumstances where I have arranged with you before the last week of the semester. If you wish to request an 'I', please email me to explain why an Incomplete is appropriate and when you will complete the 'I'.

93–100: A
90–92.9: A-
87–89.9: B+
83–86.9: B
80–82.9: B-
77–79.9: C+
73–76.9: C
70–72.9: C-
67–69.9: D+
60–66.9: D
Below 60: E

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. See the guidelines from COAM below.

OSU Health and Safety

All students, faculty and staff are required to comply with and stay up to date on all university safety and health guidance (<https://safeandhealthy.osu.edu>), which includes wearing a face mask in any indoor space and maintaining a safe physical distance at all times. Non-compliance will be warned first and disciplinary actions will be taken for repeated offenses.

Academic integrity policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university's Code of Student Conduct (studentconduct.osu.edu), and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Commitment to a diverse & inclusive learning environment

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University's Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand resources are available at go.osu.edu/ccsondemand. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766, and 24-hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org. The Ohio State Wellness app is also a great resource available at go.osu.edu/wellnessapp.
