

This is a non-tenure track position, with a three-year renewable contract ***

Campus Description: Stony Brook University, home to many highly ranked graduate research programs, is located 60 miles from New York City on Long Island's scenic North Shore. Our 1,040-acre campus is home to 24,600 undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral students and more than 13,500 faculty and staff, including those employed at Stony Brook Medicine, Suffolk County's only academic medical center and tertiary care provider. The University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities and co-manager of nearby Brookhaven National Laboratory (BNL), a multidisciplinary research laboratory supporting world class scientific programs utilizing state-of-the-art facilities such as the Relativistic Heavy Ion Collider, the National Synchrotron Light Source, and the Center for Functional Nanomaterials, and the New York Blue IBM BG/L+P supercomputer, owned by Stony Brook and managed by BNL. Stony Brook is a partner in managing the Laboratory for the Department of Energy, and is the largest institutional scientific user of BNL facilities. As such, many opportunities exist for collaborative research, and in some cases, joint appointments can be arranged.

Descriptive Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

REF#: F-9574-15-11

Budget Title: same as above

Faculty Position

Department: SoMAS

Campus: Stony Brook West Campus/HSC

Salary: Commensurate with experience

▪

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Sustainability, Geography, Public Policy, Regional Planning or related discipline with expertise in scholarship and teaching in GIS. Two years experience teaching at the college level. Expertise in any of the following areas: Earth Science, Geology, Environmental Policy and Planning, or Systems Thinking and Modeling (STELLA). Ability to teach courses in GIS and at least one substantive area such as: demography, coastal policy, environmental policy, land use, physical geography, human geography, and other areas pertinent to sustainability studies. Record of scholarly achievement and publications relevant to their specialization. Record of, or potential for, successful research funding.

Responsibilities & Requirements: The Visiting Assistant Professor will be responsible for teaching and mentoring at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The selected candidate will be responsible for collaborating with interdisciplinary sustainability research and teaching teams within the program, curriculum development and performing university, program and community service. The successful incumbent will be responsible for publishing in their academic field, as well as securing research funding. In the Sustainability Studies Program at Stony Brook University, our mission is to educate a new generation of scholars and practitioners, and invigorate the field of sustainability to address and find solutions to our most pressing environmental global challenges.

Special Notes: This is a non-tenure track position, with a three-year renewable contract. FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA. Internal and external search to occur simultaneously. Anticipated Start Date: August 2016. Stony Brook University will be 100% tobacco-free starting January 1, 2016. See our policy and learn more at stonybrook.edu/tobaccofree.

The selected candidate must successfully clear a background investigation.

Application Procedure: Those interested in this position should submit a State employment application, cover letter, resume/CV, statement of research/publication/teaching and service accomplishments and the names of three references in a single PDF file to:

Search Coordinator
Sustainability Studies Program
Melville Library, Room W0511
Stony Brook University
Stony Brook, NY 11794-3352

Applications for this position must be received, as specified in the Application Procedure Section, no later than 5:00 PM Eastern Time on 02/01/2016, unless specifically noted otherwise in the Special Notes Section.

For a full position description, or to apply online, visit:
www.stonybrook.edu/hr/facultyjobs (Ref. # F-9574-15-11).